Mauviel M'héritage copper & stainless steel cookware

The collection M'héritage is a combination of two powerful and traditional materials, copper and stainless steel. This blend of materials energizes the pleasure of cooking. The copper allows for unsurpassed heat conductivity and control, and the stainless steel interior is ideal for all daily cooking needs. The various handle options, cast iron, bronze or cast stainless steel, gives each range an aesthetic difference that meets the style for each cook.

The M'héritage collection represents the total experience and heritage of Mauviel 1830, and is used by professionals and household cooks throughout the world.
